

PREFACE

Thanks to God that the work of compiling the working papers on The Business Ethics was at last accomplished. Those working papers were originally seminar papers presented in either national or international conferences by their writers and sent to us for publication.

I especially thank to late Prof. Dr. Jasper J. van der Klooster the former Director of MBA Programme of The Hogeschool van Utrecht, The Netherlands for his contribution in completing this book. My special thanks goes to my wife Sri who gave a lot of comments that encouraged me to finish this piece of work.

This book is, aimed at providing the student of STIE TRIANANDRA with reading on Business Ethics for their internal seminars and studies. By viewing these papers students are also encouraged to write their papers and present them in the classroom. Besides that, this compilation is also aimed at providing the student with some very sophisticated materials on the related subjects. For these or some other reasons it is expected that this book will be beneficial for the student, academic staff or whoever is interested in it.

At last, it is worth mentioning that this book is only for international use and not for public sale, so that we are still indebted of critics and suggestion for the betterment of our next publication.
